Federal opportunities on Grants.gov ^[96]

CivicVane checked all 862 open or forecasted Grants.gov notices that list nonprofits as eligible. 52 touched your focus by funding category, Assistance Listing or keyword; 1 was set aside as off-topic (e.g. research-only, overseas, or a different program area) and 50 more scored below the match threshold (6), so 1 is listed. We do not pad this list with weak matches. Federal grants usually require significant capacity (registration in SAM.gov, audits, reporting); read each notice's eligibility section before deciding.

Method, limits and gaps

- Foundation data comes from IRS Form 990-PF e-filings and public-charity grant data from Form 990 Schedule I, both released by the IRS in 2024–2026 (mostly tax years 2023–2024). A funder that filed on paper, filed late, or changed priorities since its last filing will be missing or out of date.
- Community foundations and other public charities report only grants over $5,000 on Schedule I, and part of their giving is directed by donor-advised-fund holders rather than open competition. Their mission statement is used for geography because Form 990 has no restrictions field.
- Geographic fit is read literally from each funder's own words (990-PF Supplementary Information line 2d, which is Part XIV on 2021 and later forms and Part XV on earlier ones, or the public charity's mission) and checked against where its grants actually went. Funders whose stated area excludes your county or state are removed from the ranking and listed under “Screened out for geography”; “Check” means the wording is a preference or is ambiguous — read the quoted text.
- Matching is literal: CivicVane looks for your focus words in each grant's stated purpose and recipient name. Many grants say only “general support,” so a funder can be a good fit even when its match count is low — and a match does not guarantee a funder will consider you.
- “Within 20 miles” counts in-state grants whose recipient ZIP code centre lies within 20 miles of the county's centre (Census 2024 Gazetteer). County counts use the recipient's ZIP code on the filing, mapped to the county that contains most of that ZIP code's land area (Census 2020 ZCTA-to-county file).
- Corporate giving programs run directly by companies (not through a foundation) file no grant list and are not covered.
- Contact names, addresses and phone numbers are reproduced as filed and may be out of date. Capitalization of text quoted from filings has been adjusted for readability (many filers type in all capitals); the wording is unchanged.
